

Republic day & Independence day celebrations:

Both on January 26th being the Indian Republic Day and on 15th of August being the Independence Day of the Nation of India, the national flags were hoisted. The children learn and sing national songs and learn certain values and cultures. Sweets were distributed for parents and children.

The children remember and pray every day for their Sponsors (Mr. Udo Prinz) in Germany and SACCCC organization for their support.

Spiritual Activity:

Every Monday and Friday morning session is set apart for teaching Spiritual and Moral values. Children listen to stories from the Bible and learn choruses to praise our Lord Jesus Christ. Attempts are being made to teach children –How to pray according to their age. On Christmas day the children celebrated the birth of Jesus Christ and received new clothes and also enjoyed delicious food.

Sports Day:

The sports day was organized on 17th March 2012 and the children jubilantly participated in the events and enjoyed the fellowship and healthy competition.

Conclusion: It is observed that a lot of change among children did occur in their learning process and maintain healthy relationship which is essential for their cordial and mutual future growth and development. Growing with good physique, emotional wellbeing and socialization besides learning religious values are considered important and programs to provide for these needs are undertaken. There has been good parental interaction with the CDC staff and their children. The development of children is phenomenal as they are nurtured with good and nutritious food, adequate educational exposure, balanced emotional care and social interaction among other children. It is most interesting when children learn the art of caring for other children and interact with them. Intellectual development is very much noticed as they grow.
